Art Unit: 2616

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

2. The drawings are objected to because all blocks in Figure 1 should be labeled with descriptive legends known in the art. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

3. The drawings are further objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the controller differs from the access point as in claims 1, 2, 6, 7, 15 and 16, and the SIP server as in claims 7, 12, 14 and 19, all must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by HAGEN in Pub. No. US 2002/0075844 A1, hereinafter referred to as HAGEN.

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Referring to claims 1-6, 15 and 16, HAGEN discloses a wireless LAN (100) comprising an access point (3 or 4), a plurality of mobile communications devices (1) requiring data communication with the access point, and a controller (3 or 4) for controlling the supply of data communication to the mobile communications devices, the controller being such as to set up a peer-to-peer connection between a first mobile communications device for already receiving a data communication supplying a given service and a second mobile communications device requiring that service, wherein the controller includes a software agent associated with the access point, and wherein the controller is such as to control the peer-to-peer connection between the first and second mobile communications devices so as to provide the second mobile communications device with the given service from the first mobile communications device using a wireless technology appropriate to the QoS required by the second mobile communications device (see paragraphs [0010 to [0012], [0042] to [0045], [0097], [0102] to [0104]).

Referring to claim 7, HAGEN discloses that the controller is such as to register the second mobile communications device with an SIP server associated with the access point by providing that device with an SIP address, whereby that device can subsequently set up the peer-to-peer connection with the first mobile communications device using SIP messages (see paragraphs [0069] and [0114]).

Referring to claims 8-11, 17 and 18, HAGEN discloses a method of increasing the QoS of a wireless LAN having an access point and a plurality of mobile communications devices, the method comprising the steps of: a) providing data communication from the access point to plural mobile communications devices at a respective QoS requested by each mobile communications device until the transmission bandwidth ceiling of the access point is reached; and b) setting up a peer-to-peer connection from one of said mobile communications devices to an additional mobile communications device requesting a data communication providing the same service as that provided to said one mobile communications device by the access point, said peer-to-peer connection being such that the additional mobile communications device receives said data communication from said one mobile communications device at a QoS requested by the additional mobile communications device or at the highest QoS available from said one mobile communications device (see paragraphs [0010 to [0012], [0042] to [0045], [0097], [0102] to [0104]).

Referring to claims 12-14 and 19, HAGEN discloses the further step of registering said additional mobile communications device with an SIP server associated with the access point so that said additional mobile communications device is supplied with an SIP address, the provision of the SIP address enabling communication between the additional mobile communications device and the SIP server and between the additional mobile communications device and said one mobile communications device to set up the peer-to-peer connection between said two mobile communications devices (see paragraphs [0069] and [0114]).

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Art Unit: 2616

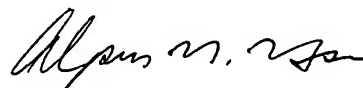

Naghian et al., Dowling, Whitehill et al., Ross et al., Texerman et al., and Wong et al. are all cited to show the common feature of communication protocol for wireless local area network utilizing access points for maintaining desired QoS similar to the claimed invention.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Alpus H. Hsu whose telephone number is (571)272-3146. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F (5:30-3:00) First Friday Off.
